On the other side of the court the grand jury was out all day examining witnesses on cases against those who are charged with a violation of the recently passed laws concerning the filling up of the channel of the river. There were also some cases before the jury wherein the defendants were charged with improper use of the mails.

It is understood that when the grand jury makes its report to-day that there will be a great many surprises. Every man and every concern that has in any way filled in the banks of the river so as to give any excuse for the charge that way filled in the banks of the river so as to give any excuse for the charge that the channel was changed or the value of the river impaired by the act, will be indicted. Even the city of Wheeling is in it. The city will be indicted with the rest, and an injunction will be asked restraining the city's eemployes from dumping street scrapings and the like over the river bank. All those who are found guilty of having violated any of the provisions of the statute will be enjoined from further using the river banks as a dumping ground.

In the Circuit Court,

In the Circuit Coort was not in session yesterday. In Part I, before Judge Paull, the question of the sanity of Mrs. Rachel Fay was investigated, and in the testimony of Dr. S. T. Carter and Rev. Lafferiy Greer it was decided that she was troubled with senile dementia and was incapable of attending to her own affairs. Accordingly, D. S. Thornburg was appointed a committee to look after the affairs of her estate.

In the case of Bawo & Dotter vs. Thomas P. Bedillion, the defendant failing to appear and the plaintiff showing good reasons for his cause, a judgment for $859 45, with interest from March 19, was entered against the plaintiff.

Yesterday morning Elizabeth Bradley,

Elizabeth Hicks and Annie Harbig, all residents of East Wheeling, got into a three cornered row that resulted in them awearing out warrants for each other before Justice Rogers.
